Abstract:

Peace Agreement in Oslo (2005) after the tsunami has brought tremendous changes in daily live of Aceh. A long violence and conflict and Tsunami gave a deep and bad social impact to thousand or millions of civilians. Peace Agreement has become a new footstep that was also lead to other legislations and policies to have new democratic of Aceh. Unfortunately, the new Aceh still has no strong commitment to fulfill the rights of the people/victim. In this short paper I will describe the tunnels of policies that can lead to transitional justice effort in Aceh and the gap to the interest of victim groups in Aceh.
