Please note the following:

- ❖ All courses used towards the major (including preparation courses) must be taken for a letter grade.
- ❖ The minimum GPA for courses used towards the preparation requirement is 2.50. The minimum GPA for courses used towards the Upper Division requirements is 2.00.
- ❖ Upper Division coursework must come from a minimum of five different departments, with no more than four courses from any one department.
- ❖ With the exception of the Humanities Literature Elective, all Upper Division coursework must focus on modern Europe (from 1800).
- ❖ Students must fulfill a minimum of 24 Upper Division units (6 courses) towards their major with coursework taken at UCLA.
- ❖ Depending on the language used for the major, courses to fulfill the Language requirement, the Lower Division Literature/Civilization course, as well as the Upper Division Literature course may need to be fulfilled through study abroad programs such as EAP. With current course offerings at UCLA, this is the case for Bulgarian, Czech, Hungarian, Lithuanian, Romanian, Serbian/Croatian, & Ukrainian. Students wanting to study these languages should consult the Academic Counselor as to how to best fulfill major requirements.
