The upcoming U.S. presidential election has far-reaching implications around the world. Join the Latin American Institute as three scholars of Latin American politics, hailing from Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Brazil, discuss how the region’s future might look different under a second Trump administration or a Biden presidency.

Speakers:

• Alejandro Díaz Domínguez, Escuela de Gobierno y Transformación Pública Tecnológico de Monterrey: Mexico
• Marco Cepik, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul: Brazil
• Charles Venator-Santiago, University of Connecticut: Puerto Rico and the Caribbean
